

GEN. NOBILE WRITES HIS POLAR FLIGHT Story for the American Only—Watch for It

NOBILE DIRIGIBLE LANDS IN NORWAY EN ROUTE TO NORTH POLE

WARSHIP IN 1150-MILE FLIGHT

Warship was warned to postpone his flight.

It was falling heavily off Spitzbergen and a terrific wind blowing. The Italia was first seen above the Varanger mountains pulsing rapidly toward Vadsø. The giant dirigible was seen twice over the town, flying low as to appear about to land.

It rose again, however, and made for the tall mooring mast on the outskirts. Shortly after 3 o'clock part of the gas in the bag was discharged and the mooring to the mast completed.

In the course of the landing here, the Italia received a slight rent in the forward of the envelope, but it was of a nature believed easily mended.

A report from the ship was received at 4:30 o'clock this morning by the radio station at Vadsø, 40 miles east of Vadsø, and indicated that it was making steady progress. During the night the ship was sighted at 10 o'clock near the town of Gamla Karleby, also known as Kokkeila, Finland, about 475 miles north of Vadsø, on the Gulf of Bothnia. It was headed north.

Vadsø, with a large 2,000 population, one of the two or three northernmost towns in the world, was patrolled in flags and hoisting in honor of the visiting airman.

British Warship Sinks Greek Boat and Is Herself Sinking

Dover, Eng., May 4 (AP)—The British warship Bacchus today rammed and sank the Greek steamer Ionia, falling in English Channel. Then the ship stood by and picked up the Greek crew of 22 men.

Plymouth, Eng., May 4 (AP)—The British warship Bacchus, which sank the Greek steamer Ionia, today is being towed to the shipyard at Plymouth. The Bacchus has been abandoned by her crew and the survivors she picked up from the Greek ship.

discovered Stebbins' automobile with his body inside.

Bank examiners had been at work on his books at the Central National Bank for a week and his accounts had been pronounced in perfect order.

The spot where the automobile was parked was near Tedesco Manor, a real estate development in which Mr. Stebbins was financially interested.

Mr. Stebbins was in good spirits before he disappeared last evening, Mrs. Stebbins told the police.

SUSPEND CHICOPEE FIRE CHIEF AFTER AUTO CRASH

Chicopee, May 4 (AP)—Mayor Henry Cloutier today suspended Arthur Montgomery, chief of the fire department, pending an investigation of a recent accident in which the chief's automobile, driven by him and with Alderman Edmund F. Dorek, as a passenger, was wrecked in collision with a pole.

The accident occurred late at night after an address meeting. Montgomery has been chief for about six years.

Children Grab the Spoils as Candy Truck Is Upset

Alexander Spector of Newton st., Malden, was slightly injured, and the children in the neighborhood of Western ave. and Foster st., Malden, were elated when his candy truck struck an elevated pole and overturned today.

Police said the accident occurred when Spector averted to avoid striking a boy. Spector was taken to his home. The contents of the truck were scattered over the streets to the delight of the children.

DOCTOR REFUSES TO JOIN BYRD TRIP

Bloomberg, Pa., May 4 (AP)—Dr. Keefer Hartline, son of Prof. and Mrs. D. S. Hartline of the faculty of the State Teachers' College here, has declined an invitation to go to the South Pole with Commander Richard E. Byrd. Dr. Hartline was invited some time ago to be the physician of the Byrd expedition. Hartline is engaged in research work at Johns Hopkins University and he considered it too important to lose two years from his work.

Five hundred dollars worth of medals and other awards will be awarded to the expedition.

BODY OF YOUNG MAN FOUND IN THE CHARLES

The body of a well-dressed young man was found in the Charles river, 200 feet below the Weld bathhouse, Harvard crew headquarters, today, by officers who dragged the victim when a bundle of clothing was reported on the bank.

Marks on the bank indicated he had waded in from shore, according to the police. The body was found in a 15-foot depth about 25 feet from shore by Metropolitan Officers Mulvihill, Bartlett, Hyde and Cotter.

Another report to the police told of a man jumping from Larr Anderson bridge, nearby.

The body was described as that of a man in the early 20s, weighing 150 pounds, black hair, medium complexion and was clad in white union suit and brown, striped socks.

In the bundle left on the shore were a pair of black shoes, a blue suit, white shirt with collar attached, gray bow tie and overcoat and a brown checked cap.

Two Harvard students, Philip Taylor of Standish Hall and Charles Goldberger of Gore Hall, Memorial Drive, Cambridge, told police they saw the man wade into the river, but thought he was to take an early morning swim.

2 SLEEPERS IN PERIL AS COP FIRES AT BOY

Five shots fired by Patrolman Walter Morgan of Waltham today failed to stop a fleeing boy on a bicycle, but one of the bullets went through a window and buried itself in the wall above the heads of two sleeping men.

The boy escaped, but was identified by a witness, according to the police, as Arthur Gray, 15, of Prospect st., West Newton. There is no charge against him.

Patrolman Morgan saw the boy sitting on his bicycle at the curb on Main st., "talking to himself." He watched and the boy, seeing him, said: "Well, are you getting your eyes full?"

As the policeman approached closer the bicyclist got into action and sped away, refusing to obey a command to stop. Morgan got into an automobile and gave chase, but after fleeing through Cross and Central sts., his quarry abandoned the bicycle and escaped.

The stray shot fired by Morgan went through a window of the house of Frederick Sweet on Central st. Inquiries by police, on information provided by William Edmunds who saw the start of the chase, led to identification of the boy, whose parents explained that he has not been well and that he had slipped out of the house during the night without their knowledge.

HERE'S A REAL AERIAL ELEVATOR

Photo shows the landing device Gen. Nobile will use at the pole. It is capable of landing either on ice or in water and the derrick sustains two men and supplies. The inventor is shown riding it with "Titina," Nobile's dog.

JUDGE HEARS PETITION ON NORTHERN ARTERY

Judge Sanderson in Supreme court today took under advisement a petition of David H. Kenyon and members of the Metropolitan District Commission, for the appointment of three commissioners to appraise the cost of the Northern traffic artery. The route was completed at an estimated cost of $2,500,000, and the commissioners to be appointed will appraise the cost among the cities and towns benefited.

METHODISTS WANT "DRY" PLANK IN BOTH PARTIES

Kansas City, Mo., May 4 (AP)—A demand that the national conventions of each of the political parties write into their platforms a plank committing the party and its candidates "to have strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the National Prohibition Law" was contained in a resolution adopted today at the Quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

broken and that he otherwise was injured about the face and body.

When Winant entered the club two men entered him to the room. He was visited there by his brother and two friends. They called J. & E. Ross, who left after giving him some medicine and calling a male nurse, shortly after the nurse arrived Winant died.

Detective and Winant had been absent from his room at the Hotel Weston for several days. They started an inspection of several known speakeasies on the theory that he had been attacked.

FINE WAR RECORD
Winant, who was 31 years old and a member of the class of 1914, Princeton, was one of the first men to join the American field ambulance corps, an organization of volunteer men which served with the allied armies, driving their ambulances in the early days of the war. He enlisted in 1915. He served with section 2 on the western front and was gassed.

Winant was one of a group of eight men in his unit to be cited for gallant action in picking up wounded troops. Montauk, under heavy shelling in May, 1917. He also received the Croix de Guerre.

ESCAPED FROM CAMP.
After America's entry in the war he became a captain in the United States Army Engineers. He was captured by the Germans early in 1918, later escaping from a prison camp at Gleussen and making his way on foot and without food for two days into Holland.

He was unmarried and was a member of the stock brokerage firm of Kelly, Devlin and Corvase.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Winant, his brother, the former governor, and two other brothers, Frederick A. Jr. of Portsmouth, N. H., and Clinton D. Winant of New York.

'QUAKE' IS ONLY TRENCH CRASH

Several persons, awakened from sleep by the crash, were convinced an earthquake had occurred when a big truck crashed into the three-story dwelling at 1544 Tremont st., Roxbury, today.

John McDonald of Roxbury lost control of the truck, which swerved over the sidewalk and buried its hood in a bay window of the tenement of Mary Monahan.

John J. Feeney, 12, who was asleep in the front room on the first floor at 1544 Tremont st., first floor, was thrown out of bed by the crash. Mary Monahan, 16, was sleeping on the floor above and was also awakened. McDonald, the driver, escaped injury.

He was sent, still in exchange Ward E. Kelly, the Boston American classified. Photo. This crash is at Liberty 1000. See 1st 40-500.

Society During Mrs. Whitney's

Lengthy Ordeal on Stand

BOOKS INSPIRED HER
Mrs. Frances Clark Whitney, Boston society matron, who is being sued for divorce at Laconia, N. H., by her husband, admitted on the stand that many of the smart sayings, such as "Long legged men make poor lovers," written in her diary were taken from books of fiction.

BUT WAS INTERRUPTED
Questioned about being found in a room with Lawrence Higgins, who is named in the husband's suit, in the Whitney home, the matron declared that she was making "a pair of Spanish pants" for Higgins and had been trying them on and was putting on his shoes.

NO KICKS FROM HUSBAND
Mrs. Whitney testified that her husband never reprimanded her about excessive use of liquor, but that he had asked her about the excessive use of cigarettes. Later she declared that she was fond of her husband even while passages in her diary indicated the reverse.

QUESTION WAS WITHDRAWN
The crowded courtroom was all agog when Mrs. Whitney, pressed by the questions of Attorney Bushnell, stated she would furnish the names of women with whom she charged her husband was unfaithful. After a conference with the court the question was withdrawn.

B. & M. HEAD IN SAGE ADVICE TO TECH MEN

"If you are going to get fed, get fed for doing something, not for doing nothing."

The advice, given him early in his minut quater, George Hannauer, 1 president of the B. & M., passed along to Tech students today.

His address, one of the Allied Institutes at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was attended by the faculty as well as several hundred students.

Urging his hearers to begin early to think for themselves, Mr. Hannauer pointed out that the college curriculum lays out an unsympathetic view of the world, from the necessities of practical experience, already has developed individuality and enterprise.

"Think for way out of your distress," he advised. "That is fundamental. Courage and aggressiveness are valuable assets. Difficulty is a disadvantage.

"If you are in a superior position, be sure to improve. If it is your job to run the train, run it.
Don't be a mere passenger."

"The breaker may go against you for a while, but you are bound to get your share of favorable 'breaks' if you keep up your courage and effort. Experience has taught me the value of extraordinary effort at critical times. After thinking out the right plan and must have the courage to go through, despite cost and risk."

"The world is looking for men who use their brains and their energy to work out its problems. Worthwhile things do not succeed from merit alone. They have to be made to succeed."

"Brain, hard work and perseverance will make a success of anything that is meritorious. Don't try to find reasons why you can not do a thing; find the way over or around the obstacles."

"If the boss loses his temper and makes unfair criticism, do not take it too seriously. He may be the fairest sort of man and do more for his associates than a soft-spoken boss."

SCARED BY 'AUTO QUAKE'

May Monahan of 1548 Tremont st., Roxbury, thought her time had come when she woke from a peaceful sleep to hear the crash and crumbling of the front of the house falling off, as the building shook so that she thought it had been hit by an earthquake.

QUINCY BETTOR OFF TODAY TO PICK FERNS

It seems there were two men, not Pat and Mike, but Ralph and Barnabas. Ralph, whose last name is Kemp, lives on Demolition rd., Quincy, was arguing with Barnabas, last name unknown, about the unemployment question. Barnabas stated that times were very hard and that work was scarce, whereupon Ralph laughed long and loudly and held his sides in glee.

"It's easy to earn money if you know how," said Ralph. "Why I could earn enough money picking ferns to support myself for a month and have a profit besides."

"I'll bet that it can't be done," replied Barnabas.

"I bet that I can do it," said Kemp.

"Done," replied his friend, and thereby hangs this tale.

As the result of a wager, Ralph will start picking ferns which abound in the vicinity of Portsmouth, N. H.

Under the terms of the agreement, which he has signed, Kemp must earn $300 within 30 days through his own efforts. His manager, Wally Zelke, may advise him as to where the ferns may be found and what dealers are in the market for them, but he cannot help Kemp to pick or ship them.

Anna is shown with her mother, Mrs. Rose Maccario, who was so overjoyed when the child spoke after six mute years that she feared the miracle cure was only temporary. However, Anna now speaks as well as any child of her years.
The "cure" came after the girl had attended a novena in the Mission Church, Roxbury.

GIRL BORN DUMB SINGS HER JOY AT 'MIRACLE'

Little Anna Maccario sang today for the first time before an audience.

She sang for joy, declaring that worship of the Blessed Virgin worked a miracle in giving her speech after she had been born dumb.

The bright-eyed, dark-haired Bromham girl is ecstatic in her praise of the Blessed Mother. The child said:

"I wish to thank the Holy Virgin for the favor she obtained for me. I could not speak one word at the age of six years. My grandmother prayed to the Blessed Virgin and I began to talk. I want everybody to know that the Blessed Virgin did this for me."

Little Anna is seven. A year ago today she spoke her first words.

"With her grandmother," Mrs.
Rose Maccario of North st., Stoneham, explained, "Anna went to the Mission Church in Roxbury, to attend the novena last year. For nine consecutive Wednesdays, they made the trip and after each visit to the shrine Anna would return in me and say, 'Mama, I saw a beautiful church today.'"

"We asked her to say other things, but that was all she could utter untill after nine weeks. Then words came to her. We were afraid even to speak of it. Gradually, she gained full powers of speech."

THERE'S THAT SKYLINE!

Little Patricia Fitzmaurice, daughter of Maj. "Fitz" of the Bremen, has been the "life of the party" in New York.
She is shown here with her mother and a friend. She's glad her daddy flew the ocean for more reasons than one.

GOVERNOR IS SURE THERE IS NO 'CLASH'

Governor Fuller said today there is positively no conflict between State and city authorities over the reception to the fliers of the Bremen.
He said the mix-up had been due to the fact that up to last night plans were only tentative, pending the announcement of the visitors' schedule.

"To all affairs the State might conduct on the first day of the arrival of the fliers, the mayor of Boston is specially invited," he said.
The matter will be very welcome as on all previous occasions. As in the case of C.A. Lindbergh, the mayor will be urged to accompany the fliers."

The Governor said the German ambassador and the minister of the Irish Free State have been invited to come here from Washington and participate in the exercises.

He sent the following telegram:
"To His Excellency, M. P. Washington, D.
C. Massachusetts, delighted at the privilege of entertaining the Bremen fliers, cordially invites you to be the guest of the Commonwealth and address the gathering at the state dinner on May 18 in honor of these brave men."

An identical message was sent to Baron Frederick W. von Fritzwitzclaffro, German ambassador, at 1333 Massachusetts ave., Washington.

The three transatlantic heroes will fly here on Friday, May 18, and remain until the following Sunday evening. Their arrival is scheduled for noon. The state and city will present gifts, as was done in the case of Col. Lindbergh, Commander Byrd, Chamberlin, Hagenberger, Matland, Acosta, Noville and Ralston.

POOR WANDERING TRUCK SAYS "MY MISTAKE"

This is how the front of the house at 1548 Tremont st.
looked, and how the truck looked after the "autoquake."
John McDonald, driver of the truck, says he lost control—and we believe him—but it still is a mystery how he escaped unhurt. The fire on the truck look as if they might be salvaged. The junkman might be interested in the rest.

100 PLANES TO FLY IN BIGGEST WAR GAME

Langley Field, Va., May 4 (AP)—Glittering from the rub of scores of brawny mechanics, more than the planes of all descriptions were being turned up here today for the greatest display of army air strength since the World War.

The ships had been brought in from many sections of the country, spread out in rows all over the field, with pilots and mechanics bustling about with preparations for the two days of maneuvers. They gave the army station here the appearance of an airplane on actual war footing.

The mobilization, marking a new departure in the activity of the army air corps, was the first of its kind in the history of the service. It was to be witnessed by hundreds of citizens from the surrounding territory. In addition to aviation officers and officials and members of the senate and House military and naval committees.

The last event on the program to-day was to show an actual bomb and machine gun attack on targets representing the ground formation of hostile troops.

FLIES 35 HOURS IN TEST; BEATS LINDY'S MARK

Michel Pédé, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—Undimmed by his first single-handed attempt to set a new endurance flight record, Lieut. Royal V. Thomas plans to try again "very soon."

Forced down when the pump valve on his gas tank opened, allowing escape of his fuel, he said he would take off on a new attempt as soon as he had a little sleep and his motor plane bellows could be put into condition again.

On his flight, which ended at 11:55 p. m., he fell almost 26 hours short of the world's endurance record. He was in the air 25 hours, 25 minutes and 29 seconds.

However, he set a new record for sustained solo flight, bettering by almost two hours the mark set by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in his flight to Paris last May.

Pole Flight Plane

Commander Richard E. Byrd, shaking hands with A. W. Fickell, his chief mechanic, during the flier's visit to the East Boston Airport, where he inspected the tri-motored Fokker plane being tested for the South Pole flight. The air hero's visit came as a surprise, as it was unannounced.

3 PLANES IN A GOOD WILL TOUR

New York, May 4 (INS)—Three huge tri-motored biplane airplanes, built for comfort and speed, will leave New York early next week on an aerial "goodwill tour" across the continent to California, making stops at 40 landing cities. Plane No. 1 will visit Boston.

The object of the tour is to call attention to California and the states it is making in aviation. In the flight the planes are to be occupied by prominent California business men. Each ship will carry two pilots, an official of the Western Air Express and three newspaper representatives. Programs will be held at the various cities en route in cooperation with various Chambers of Commerce.

BROKER SHOOTS OLD FRIEND AS 'LOVE PIRATE'

Kansas City, May 4 (AP)—A wealthy young real estate broker, who told police he believed his home had been broken up by a middle-aged business associate, was held without charge here today while his erstwhile friend lay near death from three bullet wounds.

Hurrying through the crowded Union Station, Harry J. Wheeler, made his way to the private office of C. A. Miller, district Pullman Company superintendent, and without warning fired three times at the official. All the bullets struck Miller.

"Miller broke up my home," Wheeler told Chief of Detectives L. A. Toomey. "I tried to kill him. He caused me plenty of worry and I'm glad I did it."

Asked to describe the event's leading up to the shooting, Wheeler told Toomey he did not care to reveal the details pending his arraignment.

Wheeler, who at 27 had developed an extensive real estate business, was described in a divorce complaint filed by his wife April 19, last, as very jealous.

Lazy Court Clerk Must Work or Stay in Jail

Detroit, May 4 (AP)—Henry A. Myers, a former circuit court stenographer, whose faculty for postponing work from day to day finally cost him his job, today was "clearing his deck" in a jail cell.

The disciplinary measure was meted out by Judge Theodore Richter, who discharged the stenographer and then learned that because of Myers' negligence many persons had been deprived of their rights of appeal by not being able to get transcripts of court records in time.

Myers was summoned to court and admitted the negligence, but protested sentence, saying he "did not see how incarceration in the county jail can help matters any."

"I have arranged that all right," Judge Richter replied. "A typewriter, dictaphone and other facilities have been installed in your cell and you will remain there until you have cleared up your back work."

The work which Myers will be required to complete before he gains his freedom is the writing of transcripts of seven court cases, ordered by attorneys before his dismissal. The total volume of work is 1250 pages of legal copy, or close to half a million words.

Myers estimated the task will occupy about three weeks.

From her husband on the alleged weekend trip to camp, while she was in Boston, were "Mrs. Hovey, a Miss Leonard and a Mr. Harrington," she stated.

In her retail she also included the name of "Mrs. Norton," with whom she said Mr. Whitney went shopping every day on the trip—sometimes about Mr. Norton, she believed.

She told her story under questioning by her ex-husband's counsel, Col. Stephen K. East, in the same calm manner that has characterized her attitude throughout the trial.

She testified that she was left alone a great deal at their various Boston homes to take care of the two children while her husband was "going places."

"He didn't work, he never worked," she said. "When he went away he gave me the money to do anything I chose, and if I wanted to go to a friend's house or to my friends to take me around and see that I was not bored. He let me in a general way to have a good time."

Q—Did he tell you to get male friends to take you around? A—Oh, he said that many times.

Q—When he went to the city to see his friends, did he tell you to go to the city to see his friends?

"The man who does not make mistakes is not doing much. Don't be too good a follower. It is a Marathon."

LAWRENCE HIGGINS

This photo of the Boston diplomat who is named by Harold O. Whitney in his suit against Mrs. Frances Clarke Whitney, shows him as he appeared when attending Harvard.

week-end in 1923. She visited us in September and I've never seen her again.

Q—Did you become acquainted with her yourself on these visits?

A—No, I never saw much of Miss Hovey when she visited us.

Q—How long was she there?

A—Once, over Labor Day week-end.

Q—From anything your husband told you of your own knowledge, do you know how he became acquainted with her or how he happened to have her as a guest?

A—I don't know whether she had a car or was on a visit, but she was around Palm Beach when Mr. Whitney was there. I think I met her the first time I stayed at Palm Beach. She stayed at our apartment one night.

Q—Was there, while she was at your camp in 1923, any conduct on the part of her or your husband to either which caused you worry, discomfort and anguish? If so, state what you observed.

A—I saw Mr. Whitney and Miss Hovey together when I was there. I saw them in the afternoon to the camp. A party was given and I had been to the fishing and I had been out to get the mail. When I brought the mail to the house, I came into the house suddenly, I remembered with my husband and afterward told Mrs. Whitney that dinner was ready. That evening she took the train for Boston or New York or somewhere, and I haven't seen her since.

Mrs. Whitney said her husband always visited Glenview, N. Y., every summer, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Norton. She said she knew Mrs. Norton by sight.

WENT TO N. Y.

She stated that she saw more about Mrs. Norton, but there were other things. She then said: "As far as I know of my own knowledge, Mr. and Mrs. Norton spent the summer together at Glenview, N. Y. But I heard from Mrs. Norton herself, from Mr. Norton and also from Mr. Whitney that Mrs. Norton never went with her on her trips to New York."

"My sister was introduced to her in New York."

Q—Mrs. Whitney, can you or can you not recall, and if you can state, any conduct between Mr. Whitney and Mrs. Norton that troubles you? That you talked with your husband about? A—I remembered with him about his spending a lot of time with her and also spoke of not being involved on parties he went with her.

Q—Last if a fact Mr. Whitney and Mrs. Norton went places together to which you were not invited? A—They stayed together practically every day both were in the city since the winter of 1922 or 1923. They have been other places together—night clubs and other places. I don't think Mr. Norton was present on all these occasions. I remember Mr. and Mrs. Norton came to dinner at our apartment in the spring of 1923 and also later in the summer before my boy was born. They came one day when they were going on a theater party. I was not invited to go.

Husband Sick

Q—Mrs. Whitney, have you been at your camp when Mr. or Mrs. Norton, or both, were guests? A—I think Mrs. Norton visited us once, but her husband was unable to on account of his health.

Q—What has been the general conduct of your husband for the last two or three years toward you regarding ill-treatment, neglect, harsh words, vile language—I mean, general conduct? A—I would say he was disinterested. He came to me only when he had to and was never with me all the time.

She groped for a word, saying that she did not know exactly how to describe what she meant. She then said: "I'd say he was indifferent."

She said that in 1923 she got in a highly nervous condition from "too many guests and too many late parties" at Pine Island.

While in a hospital at Phillips House, Massachusetts General Hospital, where her son was born, August 29, her husband had two girls and a man to Pine Island for a weekend party, she testified.

Q—How did you know in was there? A—He told me he was going up with two girls and a man. One of the girls was about 15, taller at the hospital. The party was given at the hotel. She said she saw Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Norton's son.

DODGE WAR AND MOTOR CARS

London, May 4 (INS)—Details of the strange life of a colony of 500 Europeans in the Riverside district of South Africa, who never heard of motor cars, radio nor airplanes and who do not know there was such a thing as the World War, were received today from Johannesburg.

The colony has lived for nearly a century in their out of the way homes. Due to the absence of radio strangers have not penetrated into the strange village. The presence of strangers was resisted.

These people have practically no communication with the outside world. They live on the produce of gardens and wild game while the is burned to serve as coffee. While families exist on an expenditure of less than five cents a day.

URGE GOVERNOR TO TAKE QUICK
'L' ACTION

This House of Representatives today decisively quipped any attempt to revive Elevated legislation this session without a special message from the Governor by refusing to reconsider the action of yesterday when it killed all three bills.

Representative Martin Hays of Brighton moved reconsideration, but the motion was defeated by a rising vote of 36 to 30. The temper of the assembly was shown when a motion to have action on the reconsideration motion postponed to Monday was also defeated.

Governor Fuller has not indicated whether or not he will send a special message on the Elevated, but he has plenty of time in which to do so before promulgation.

Those eager to have the important question settled quickly will endeavor to induce the Governor to send a special message immediately. It is understood they will urge that he advocate the creation of a commission to draft a bill for public use.

2 Boys 'Tote' Injured Girl 10 Miles Over
Wild Mountain

Stanley, Va., May 4 (INS)—Resourcefulness is a part of life in the Blue Ridge Mountains. The Cave children Tommy, 12, Nancy, 10, and Johnny, 13, were back in their mountain home today after a tortuous 10-mile trip down the mountain and back.

Nancy had broken her leg. There was no doctor and no means of conveyance to a doctor. So the brothers made a "saddle" by lacing their hands together and "toted" Nancy down the side of the mountain, the leg was set by a doctor and despite advice to leave her here, the boys "toted" her back home again in the same fashion.

FLOGGED WITH

THONGS

Milledgeville, Ga., May 4 (INS)—Three prominent men were whiplashed today on charges of flogging James T. Angles, a farmer, who is in the hospital recovering from severe cuts caused by blows with tack-studded thongs.

Those arrested were Levi L. Smith, formerly a member of the board of education of Wilkinson County; L. W. Hubbard, member of the Baldwin County Democratic executive committee; and Fountain Hardy, a farmer. They denied the charge.

Angles said there were four men in the party.

Angles said he was awakened Wednesday by four men, who said they had come to buy whiskey. He told them he had no whiskey. They then declared they were revenue agents and carried him away in his night clothes, Angles added.

"You needn't bother about dressing," he quoted one of his assailants. "The next time you are dressed it will be by the undertaker."

Angles said he was beaten until he lost consciousness.

HEAT BREAKS CHICAGO RECORD, REACHING 90

Chicago, May 4 (AP)—It blew hot and it blew cold over the Middle West yesterday and today, but most of it was hot.

When temperatures reached 90 in Chicago and other Middle West cities all previous weather bureau records for May 4 were shattered. Many hundreds sought relief at the beaches, splashing in waters only a few feet from shore.

Earth Getting Wobbly, Losing Her Good Shape

Washington, May 4 (INS)—Old Mother Earth is getting out of shape—losing her girlish figure of a couple of billion years ago.

In fact, research by scientists develops that the earth is getting something of a rotund stomach, so to speak, but just why hasn't been definitely discovered. One explanation advanced by Carnegie Institution is the variable rate of motion of the world on its axis, although the William Bowie of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, today advanced the theory that possibly the variation is attributable to the earth's irregular figure.

These questions are under study by Carnegie Institution. Benjamin Ross, director of the institution's department of meridian astronomy, pointing out that astronomers have unearthed evidence of a variation in rotation declared that as soon as the data is sifted and interpreted, a new field will be opened to geophysicists.

Not only does the rate of rotation vary over a long period of years, but there is a yearly and monthly periodicity.

What evidence we have indicates tidal action upon the body of the earth.

Rev. G. F. Fortier Dead

Meriden, Conn., May 4 (AP)—Rev. George F. Fortier, superintendent of the Universalist Church in Vermont, New Hampshire and Quebec, died today. The body will be taken to Boston, his former home, for burial. Besides his widow, he leaves one daughter, Miss Mildred D. Fortier, a student at Tufts College.

ROBBED OF $350
AND DIAMOND

A job of $100, a diamond ring valued at $250, and a wrist watch, valued at $150, constituted the price paid by Elizabeth Bonilla of First st., today for leading in strangers.

Bonilla reported to the police that she lost two men in Hingham st., who said they were bound for Italy and wanted time to take their money and arrange for passports and passage. They asked for security and he put on the relaxation and money.

RADIO AND CONCERT BUREAU IS ORGANIZED

M. H. Ayerworth, president of the National Broadcasting Co., announced formation of the National Broadcasting and Concert Bureau, and appointment of George Engel, former manager of the New York Symphony, as managing director. The work of engaging artists for programs of WCAP, WJZ and associated stations will be under direction of Mr. Engel, who has for years managed many of the great concert artists. In addition to engaging artists and speakers, the bureau will in many cases undertake their management in connection with appearances in concerts, lecture tours and chautauque programs.

MANAGER TELLS OF MRS. KNAPP STORE DEBT

Court House, Albany, May 4 (AP)—When the trial of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the administration of 1921 state census funds, was resumed today, counsel was informed of the possibility of a night session tonight and probably another session all day tomorrow. Justice Stephen Callahan, presiding over the special term of Supreme court, indicated his desire to expedite the case as much as possible.

The Grand Jury which returned the indictment on which Mrs. Knapp is being tried and it others against her filed a perjury motion this morning. They met and adjourned almost immediately.

The first witness of the day was Patrick J. Sullivan, general manager of the E. W. Edwards & Son department store of Syracuse, where Mrs. Knapp bought furniture which she is alleged to have paid for with proceeds from a check for $25,000 in favor of her stepdaughter, Clara Blanche Knapp, which Mrs. Knapp is charged with forging.

Sullivan testified as to accounts of Mrs. Knapp with the store, on January 23, 1921, shortly after Mrs. Knapp became secretary of state, she covered the same about $200 Sullivan noted, which was increased later.

In February, 1921, Sullivan testified, his office received a bank draft for $25,000, the amount of the check Mrs. Knapp is alleged to have diverted to her own use without authority. It credited Mrs. Knapp's accounts with a total of $249,100.

Secretary of State Robert Moses testified as to his failure to find various records and memoranda concerning census bureau appointments and payroll matters. He described efforts he made to find from his predecessor in office, Mrs. Knapp, where the missing records were. She told him the records had been burned.

Mr. Modell asked Mr. Moses to describe Mrs. Knapp's actions at the conference.

"She was nervous," said the witness. "She finally said the records had been shipped up to Syracuse and had been burned," said Mr. Modell.

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC CO.

TWO SUCCESSSES OF STAGE WILL BE FILMED

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Copyright, 1928, by Eastern Amos Co.

OS ANGELES, May 4—"Sat-day's Children" was a deliciously amusing play on the stage.

But I shouldn't care to prophesy what will happen when it is filmed.

Other plays, with considerable situations, have been bought and sold and come through so, perhaps, Maxwell

Anderson's play will overcome these few handicaps when Corinne Griffith brings it to the screen.

I registered to mention "Saturday's Children" and "Dad For" have both been bought for Corinne Griffith.

Neither of them will be produced however, until later. "Dad For" is well known play. "Saturday's Children" is a new play.

It looks very much as if the promises made to the fair Corinne when she came making her own independent pictures and moved over to

First National are to be kept.

Many people wonder why she did not continue as Gloria Swanson had done, making her own pictures especially after "The Garden of Eden." We can answer that in one word. Money. Why should Corinne

Griffith use her own bankroll when she can get First National to buy stories of the culture of these two?

Why should any star?

Greta Garbo, manless, heroine and hopeless, has waited for two whole weeks until Metro-

Gwyn-Mayer found a leading man to please her. Tests were made and discarded with astonishing rapidity. Finally, General Mayer's

name was mentioned and Greta

Garbo for the first time in two weeks smiled.

Perhaps she saw him in "Glorious Betty" subject to play one of the most romantic sweethearts on the screen in a long time.

At any rate, Fred N. blo, who has been ready to shoot "War of the Wonders," can now get ahead with Metro-Gwyn's scenario. Niblo should also be working with Greta for it was in his direction of "The Empress" that brought her her first recognition.

It is certainly worth while for any young stage actress to come to Hollywood and appear before the footlights. Mary Dean, another

New York stage favorite, has interested the interest of our Hollywood producers.

Lillian Marie Moran came here to play the lead in "Saturday's Children," opposite young Louisa

Barber, Jr. D. W. Griffith saw her and gave her a break in "The Battle of the Seven," not a very important part because the picture was already under way but it started her on her way so that yesterday Tiffany signed her to play opposite

George Jessel in "Diplomacy."

JUST a few odds and ends over the luncheon table. Gloria

Swanson is moving from her home to Beverly Hills in a new house

June 1. Morris brother, the Count de La Palmar, won't interfere with the change, for he considers him self the last of May. "The brother" who is very young and sun, has the same attractive manner that has made Gloria's husband so popular in Hollywood.

It happened to meet Dr. Ludwig

Berger, the director of Pola Negri's next picture, sitting next to her agent. Dr. Berger told me he is going back to Germany when he finishes "Fidelity." He has agreed to make one more picture for UFA.

Blanche Bennett is authority for the little piece of news that Blanche

Swanson has been enjoying a vacation in Paris. The cameraman, David Scotton, has been sick, and in of England there isn't a cameraman that Blanche feels can take his place.

It won't make the slightest difference whether Marie Prevost yearns for her own dark locks or not. The current preference for blonde and blonde she has to remain. When she'll be blonde first, she'll be blonde subject Marie donned a blonde wig.

It transformed her into another person.

She didn't mind the wig but but Thomas Meighan declared against it and suggested that

Miss Prevost blonde her hair. Her own blonded locks look so well that the screen already filmed in "The Hackett" with a wig were removed.

But Marie says white she is willing to sacrifice her crowning glory to art for the screen she is going to be herself when she goes to New York in a few weeks.

Waterman's now offers all the exclusive advantages of rubber in pen and pencil holders, plus the beauty of alluring colors

YOU will appreciate their beauty at a glance when you see these new two-tone color effects in hard rubber. They are a triumph in pen making.

Color effects in hard rubber have always defied the rubber chemist until our research engineers finally solved the problem. This notable achievement has resulted in a beautiful line of stainless ripple-rubber holders in ripple-bluegreen, ripple-rose, ripple-olive and ripple-red.

This will be good news indeed to those who know rubber to be the one and only satisfying material for fountain pen holders but who have wanted a more colorful pen.

Ask the nearest Waterman dealer to show you these alluring new creations.

Crosby and Welch Lead in Woodland 4-Ball Play

HAVE NET TOTAL OF 63 IN ANNUAL TOURNEY

By BILL GRIMES
By putting together the pair of 33 for a gross of Pelley F. Crosby of Woodland and Tommy Welch of Scarborough had a 3-stroke lead on the field in the annual Woodland Golf Club 4-ball tournament.

Welch and Crosby who also won the event last year, played sensational golf and took in a fine show. Crosby had an approximately 20 on his own ball but Welch tied him on the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th. The pair had a net total of 63 in the 18-hole tournament. The pair of 33 for a gross of Pelley F. Crosby of Woodland and Tommy Welch of Scarborough had a 3-stroke lead on the field in the annual Woodland Golf Club 4-ball tournament.

Real Reel Thriller

This remarkable movie was made by M-G-M news at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, while Charlie Paddock raced to a world record in the 175-yard dash. Only by a stroke of good fortune was a serious tragedy avoided. When Paddock, shown on left, began to edge his way out in front of the fast field, the crowd in the stands, eager to see the finish, swarmed toward the end of the stands. The tremendous pressure of the crushing crowd caused the stand wall to sag, as is shown in the second picture. With a crash, followed by screams, the wall collapsed, and half a hundred spectators fell in confusion on the track.

Martha Lee Gives Moving Day Tips

THIS spring moving fever being pocket inside out and brush and air them to sweet cleanliness. By doing this before moving, you'll be sure not to take moths or moth eggs with you.

Heavy clothing should not be packed into the dresser drawers for the movers to take. It is apt to make it come again. After the dresser drawers have been cleaned, fill them with the usual things and packages, and place on some other lighter articles which will prevent them from being crushed. Heavy coats, sweaters, and other articles should be covered and handled by the movers on short hauls. For instance, they may need to be carried through the door in a box, wrapped in each one in paper and in a cloth, and placed in a box.

Having enough packing material to surround all china, glass, or other breakable articles is the secret of their safe arrival. The packing material should be the same as the one used in the boxes. It should be packed in the boxes, and the boxes should be packed in the boxes.

In all the migrations—I'm kidding you—I've yet to have a man as a helper. The broken, heavy of newspapers has been the worst in moving. The family plate, glass, or other breakable articles should be packed in the boxes, and the boxes should be packed in the boxes.

A friend of mine, who is an expert in moving, tells me that the best way to move is to move the heavy things first, and then the light things. This way, the heavy things will be the last to be moved, and the light things will be the first to be moved.

It is a question but that the most important thing to be done is to move the heavy things first, and then the light things. This way, the heavy things will be the last to be moved, and the light things will be the first to be moved.

Advice to the Lovelorn
By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I am a young man of 18. I wish you would settle a debate between my friend and myself.

It is my friend's belief that when a young man takes a young lady to a theater, dance, or other place of amusement, he should be repaid at the end of the evening by her willingness to show him some affection. He means by this that she should be willing to allow him to kiss or pet her, if he so desires.

I believe that a handshake and a "Thank you for a good time" are sufficient.
I am very much interested in your column and will be watching for your reply. Thank you.

J.C.D.
I FULLY agree with you, Jud, and I think your friend is mistaken. To expect kisses and caresses in return for every treat is to compound selfishness, selling it at a much too high a price. Such a condition of things is disgusting in a right-minded man or girl.

Lucy Lowell Hits This Woman's Plan

By LUCY LOWELL.
MISS C. C. writes that she has solved the problem of the "working wife" by becoming one of them.

Here is her letter, in part:
"Dear Lucy Lowell:
It is true that more wives are going outside their homes to earn and for the reason you state, high cost of living.

I have five children, and my husband, having well trained, earns a small salary. But I want my children to have as good as the ones they play with. So I took a course in seamanship and have a good position in a women's wear shop.

"We have been able to buy our home, build a garage and have a small car since I started to work. My eldest girl, 17, stays home and does the housework. My second and fifth, my eldest boy, 14, works. The boy of 14 has papered the house and earned a little doing odd jobs.

"We all work together and get along fine, and I am much happier in the shop than I was doing housework. I think it a great thing that women no longer have to be bound down to housework, and that is herself.

MISS C. C. has solved the problem.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

BY HELEN ROWLAND

ONE of the most striking phenomena of this restless age is the restless husband.

Wives have always been restless. But now you hear, every day or so, of some man who is chafing at the bit, after trotting along comfortably in the matrimonial harness for 10, 20 or 30 years, and who is planning to junk the old side-partner for a brand new this year's model soul mate.

He has discovered that, after all, he and the woman who has been leading out his spring tonic for two or three decades are not "truly mated," and that his real spiritual affinity is some little thing, at least 10 years his wife's junior, and often his inferior in brains and pulchritude.

The truth is that he is yearning, not for the other woman, but for a brand new AUDIENCE! He is bored, not with his wife, but with the old routine. He is tired, not of monogamy, but of monotony.

He is longing for somebody who will admire him, flatter him and jolly him. Somebody who will look at him from a new angle and discover new charms in him. A new class leader!

He is pining for somebody to whom he can give advice, and to whom the old platitudes and truisms will sound like brand new pearls of thought.

He is subconsciously yearning for someone to whom his old life will seem bright and new and original, and who will feel a new thrill at his glance, his touch and his kiss.

He wants somebody around, to whom he can play deuce Close and Conquering Hero, and who will baffle joyfully, instead of looking suspicious, when he brings her roses and bomboms, or admires her new hat.

He is looking for someone who will believe all his old alibis and have faith in all his old excuses—someone whom he can fool for a little while, anyway. Someone who will help him fool HIMSELF into thinking that he is noble and wise and strong and wonderful.

He longs to hear the ripple of spontaneous laughter at his old jokes, and of genuine applause, when he tells his after-dinner stories.

Oh, yes. It isn't his love of another woman that leads a man astray half so often as his love of novelty or adventure. It isn't his yearning for romance that makes him fling his wife to the winds for a CHANGE!

It isn't that the new woman is any more congenial. It's just that she's more impressionable. The fancy that what he needs is a brand new heart-lifter to keep up the glow of life. But what he is really yearning for is to give a brand new AUDIENCE!

"Did you get a reward?" asked his wife that night.

Aram Wins His DISTRICT Championship

ARAM BELANGER

The French Ambassador to the United States, whose recent visit to the Broussards, the LeBlancs, the Morels, the LaSalle and the Patouls of Louisiana's "Evangeline" country touched him to the heart, should be invited to the National Spelling Bee, which will be held in Washington on May 22d.

M. Claudel, we all feel sure, will be glad to make the acquaintance of Aram Belanger, aged 13, champion grade-school speller of southeastern Massachusetts.

We have spoken of Aram before, but that was when he was "only" the champion speller of New Bedford. Since that time he has met and vanquished 30 other champions, the proud representatives of as many cities or towns.

They held the "big" bee in the State Armory at New Bedford, with an audience of 2000 persons, for these boys and girls were the pick of 10,000.

Aram, a pupil of St. Anthony's school, was the same indomitable chap who had won down his home town rivals in the language of an excellent reporter of the Evening Standard, which promotes these bees, he was carried to victory by "the same stuff that took Washington over the Delaware and Lindbergh across the Atlantic."

In the beginning the test was quite easy, growing difficult as it went along and the ranks were thinned. Here are the "demon words" which eliminated one "champ" after another until only Eleanor Harrison remained beside the Belanger boy:

smith	civilian	tableau
recede	despair	secession
rebel	navigable	occupant
divide	hygiene	stratagem
decent	vertical	precautions vigilance	symptom	opereita essential	ridiculous	dilemma variegated

Through 30 MORE words went Eleanor Harrison and Aram. Thirty many-syllabled, puzzling words they went, too. Then, "criticism," and all was over for Eleanor. Himself the standard by which Bristol County spellers are judged Master Belanger found that word easy. As his alternate, however, Eleanor will visit the capital with him and see the sights. The President will be glad to see THEM, as something new in spellbinders.

Still as fond of Aram as fond can be, for we confess to a weakness for good spellers, as we read the Standard's story our heart went out to a youngster three years his junior, who—mark our words—is going to be heard from. We quote a better reporter:

"Before the contest had gone many rounds letters and spectators began to select special favorites from the leading personalities of the youngsters on the stage. Henry Broussard, Middleboro, at 19 the youngest of the contestants, was observed counting the remaining words once in the line, though cheerfully but shrewdly watching the popular fancy by his dancing eyes, quiet manner, and the surprising assurance with which he spelled words that grew increasingly difficult.

"Henry, little more than thirteen, held on—into the third and final period, falling on the word 'secession.' Only six of the 31 contestants remained upon the platform after him. HE, the champion of southeastern Massachusetts one of these days, as sure as shootin'.

Two centuries after Iroville and Bienville and Antoine Crozet, the French Ambassador, on his visit to the Teche country last week, found the people speaking their strange French, "a language bearing the marks of an older French, the native tongue of the ancestors they had retained uncorrupted." At St. Martinville, one proud grandmother said to him: "To me my children must talk French and French alone. They may talk English elsewhere if they please, but at home, in my presence, it is a different matter."

Very likely Aram Belanger speaks French at home, too, which makes his winning an English spelling championship, over the best spellers 31 communities could produce, all the more praiseworthy. Ambassador Claudel will be glad to meet him.

ART CRITICISM FROM A COUPLE OF SHOE MANUFACTURERS

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, May 4—Thoughts while strolling: Those enticing thrift cards in bank windows. Never are a slick dime any more. Antique dandies with pearl spots and luscious gardens. And young blades with four-inches looped out in a semi-circle.

Excitedly greeting a luncheon crowd. Moving to Park ave. places that serve black caviar in miniature blocks of ice. Another block reposed in the fourth world's die. For what? A crumb of twisted cake like Harry Lauder carries. Can't leave that play when you lift the lid. Dr. Rockwell, the new Winter Garden comedian.

Those drug stores with a British manner and high prices. And clerks in linen dusters. Silken gray Bedlington terriers with apple-faces. Nurses in uniforms. And talking to policemen just as they do in comic papers.

Wonder if the speak-easy has included this perfume arc? A man of language criss-crossed with bright labels from all over the world. A tiny square filled with magnetic notes, swung along with alibi-like strides and call you "Old Thing."

Ornate mansions. Built by real estate millionaires, cigarette kings and such. Rich youths who used to be called set-ends-were but who now play polo and are featured in the society column. And crop fathers with emphatic claims who provide a touch.

Tranquil church with heavily arched doorway and shrouded pews. A benediction amid splendor. Richard V. Cutler, the pen and ink paragon who made "The Gay Nineties" famous. Whatever became of Walter Dill Scott? Doormen who look like Van Helsing.

And not looking very happy. Coosied horses with the luggage clung to carriage. And lavender and old lace ladies peering out from the gloom. Back to bonking motors. Popular tea rooms, stout lady shoppers and traffic jams. Bill Aris, the dog man, in a club one night and the next the maintenance has to call out the police reserves to keep back the crowds.

POPULARITY is never as capricious as it is with New York cats. For no apparent reason a place will receive the patron that confers popularity.

ONE of the finest cats in New York was untraced in six years ago when patron recognized the hostess of a lively dinner party. The cat of the room as the notorious figure just acquitted in a celebrated murder. Trade began to divide and it closed five months later.

On the other hand, night clubs thrive on scandal. Let Harry Thaw, one of our leading philosophers, have one of his spears and in a club one night and the next the maintenance has to call out the police reserves to keep back the crowds.

What the British Saw

It Satisfied Their Idea of an American

MR. AND MRS. HENRY FORD JUST BEFORE THEY LANDED IN ENGLAND, WHERE THEY ARE NOW

This is Henry Ford as the British saw him walking off the ship to tell them they ought to use more machinery, change wasted heat into power, etc.

The Detroit automobile wizard, tall, thin, laconic, making his first public speech in twenty years, talking little, listening a great deal, represented the United States pretty well.

When the British saw him they saw SOMETHING in the way of efficiency and common sense.

GREEN CROSS BUSY SAVING FORESTS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A RESOLUTION has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Copeland of New York, and a similar one in the House by Representative Evans, giving official recognition to the American Green Cross and providing $120,000 for this work.

The Green Cross has been actively functioning for the past five years protecting our forests, and having among its incorporators many of America's foremost citizens. It is a body with an educational program and represents a work that is sadly needed.

Too much attention cannot be given to the conservation of our forests and their intelligent use.

This fact has been called to our attention by a series of unprecedented disasters, floods, fire, drought, pestilence and famine which have destroyed hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of property and left devastation in their wake.

In the Mississippi Valley 700,000 homes were destroyed and 600,000 people made destitute by the flood last spring.

In the New England states over 100 lives were lost and much damage done by flood. Destructive cyclonic winds caused much loss of life around St. Louis.

Altogether $34,000,000,000 and many thousands of American lives have been lost in these disasters. There is nothing of more widespread benefit to the people than flood control, farm relief, forest fire prevention and reforestation. This needed work is that which the American Green Cross addresses itself.

Dr. Harvey Wiley says: "As we learn more of hygiene we understand better the relation between trees and health and the necessity of pure, clean air to be obtained from the forests."

We can live less than five weeks without food, less than five days without water and less than five minutes without air. All these necessities are practically dependent upon trees.

"The trees are as necessary to the earth as are capillaries to the body."

Mr. Jean Cabart declares that "the world is drifting toward becoming a huge desert swept by floods and tempests because of deforestation." He calls upon the governments of the world to cease their senseless destruction of trees and begin comprehensive policies of reforestation.

In the late Mississippi flood if the rainfall and snow had been retarded by the proper forestation the water which went down the main channel in three weeks would have taken six, flowing with only one-half the head.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I HAVE been warned not to keep the following document but, on the peril of my soul, to pass it on to at least four other persons. Why four? There's nothing stingy about me—I shall pass it on to at least 4000, with jeans, boots and catcalls of derision!

THE FLANDERS CHAIN OF GOOD LUCK—

"This letter of good luck was sent to me—I am sending it to you so as not to break it."

"Copy this and send it to four of your friends within 24 hours, to whom you wish good luck."

"This chain was started by an American officer in Flanders. It should go three times around the world."

"Do not stop it or you will have bad luck, and the fourth day after you send it you will have good luck. It is positively remarkable how this prediction has been fulfilled since this chain has started. So send this and see what happens on the fourth day. Send this and three others. Do not keep this!"

And this is the year 1928! And we call ourselves a civilized people!

In the foregoing exhibit a "chain" I'll say it! It is a chain of fear, ignorance, and superstition which will endlessly shackle anyone who believes in it, and who helps to weld it.

This letter is all of a piece with the black voodoo rites of the most savage jungle. People who believe that the forwarding of such dried and mummified letters will also have faith that the hind leg of a toad, boiled in snake's milk with the left ear of three black spiders and the tonils of a cat's paw will render brave, brave, failing love and cast out evil spirits. No wonder, then, that concocted anything sillier than this "chain of good luck."

Whereupon some will reply: "You're all wrong. That thing does work and we can prove it. We know a lot of people who forwarded good luck letters and on the fourth day after they sent them they DID have good luck. So let it be!"

I haven't a doubt they did. And I don't care for the old chain.

But faith will get you almost anything. Any faith will get you good luck, and it will give you peace, and bring peace into your life and drive out hate and fear. Faith will do all that for any man who uses it right. But the writing of endless chains of letters is a right of Faith, indeed, there rarely any Faith in such an act, not there is Fear. And the forwarding of such letters does not promote Faith or Happiness, but it does promote fear and ignorance.

If you want Good Luck don't clutter the mails with tempests, but clean out your mind. Clean out all the old fear and hate suspicion, intolerance, hatred, selfishness and dishonesty which are keeping your Good Luck from you. Put your heart in order—be ready for your good-luck and it will come. For you yourself, control your own Good Luck.

I haven't a doubt they did. And I don't care for the old chain.
